Eleanor Roosevelt was the wife of the American President Franklin D Roosevelt. She was a political activist and made frequent public appearances.

After her husband's death, she was appointed as his successor to be a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly. She helped draft the Universal Declaration of Human rights which was later adopted by the General Assembly.

When asked what was the reason behind her amazing success, she replied that it was her fear and her determination to overcome it. She also said that anyone can conquer fear by doing things they fear to do and continue doing it until they succeed.

Eleanor believed herself to be an 'ugly duckling', she was ashamed of her clothes, her looks and she was very shy. She overcame her shyness and built her confidence and courage when she first started working with house wives like her.

In the passage, she conquered her _____.

1. duck
2. determination
3. fear
4. foe

Correct Answer :-

My grandma is old and weak

But she's always happy and ready to speak

Of the Stories of when she was young

And could run faster than everyone

Sometimes when she remembers these times

I can see that she gets sad.

Looking at my beloved granny like this,

I begin to feel quite bad

So I put on my blue floral frock

That was her gift to me

And somersault in her room

For her to clap and see

I want to cheer her up

So I run to the shop

And buy all her favorites:

A toffee and an orange lollipop.
